Smith needs the woodshed

To the Editor:

I recently read an ad in Texas Monthly advertising Waco. It invited the public to beautiful Waco. There was a lovely picture of our own Suspension Bridge, and it was a great ad.

I suppose the Chamber of Commerce is responsible for placing advertisements for Waco in different magazines and publications. It is ridiculous to me to spend all this money for ads and then have our city manager, David Smith, go on a Dallas television station and talk about these "horrible" crime problems and lack of prosecution in Waco. As a taxpayer, I resent this. I am wondering if our City Council was aware of David Smith's debut before he went on or if it was just surprise "attack." Either David Smith should be severely reprimanded for this action and the City Council should decide whether to remove him from our city government, the City Council or Smith.
